How Are You Celebrating Archives Month?

The California State Archives is hosting three Archives Month events in October at the California Secretary of State's building. The State Archives will host an open house as part of the fourth annual Sacramento Archives Crawl. The full-day event with the theme "Having Fun in the Sacramento Region" will showcase local historical treasures. The archives is also hosting a Digital Archives Day for the Family Historian and a Preservation Workshop. For more information, see the latest issue of California Originals, the California State Archives' quarterly newsletter.

The Austin Archives Bazaar will feature booths with twenty-two Central Texas archives showing off their collections as well as an archival film screening, an oral history booth, a preservation station, and more.

Reach Your Target Audience

The Society of American Archivists (SAA) is North America's oldest and largest professional organization representing the interests of archives and archivists. SAA unites archivists who have a range of specialties and encourages collaboration. By providing the latest research and information, continuing education, advocacy, and networking opportunities, SAA strengthens the profession and helps archivists achieve their career goals.

When you advertise with SAA, you'll connect with a network of more than 6,200 individual and institutional members who are the decision makers within their organizations. Through SAA's range of advertising and sponsorship opportunities, you can send timely messages alongside our trusted content, increase brand awareness for your company, and establish and solidify relationships with customers.

What Matters to Our Members

By taking advantage of our advertising or sponsorship opportunities, you'll be reaching archivists who are personally and professionally invested in the media outlet you choose. In our most recent member survey, individual and institutional members indicated that three of the top reasons they joined and remain members of SAA were:

- ◆ To receive SAA's journal, The American Archivist, and the bimonthly magazine, Archival Outlook
- ◆ To stay current on information about the profession
- ◆ To network and build relationships at events like the Annual Meeting

In addition, 94 percent of Annual Meeting attendees indicated that they regularly visit the Exhibit Hall to meet with exhibitors and sponsors during the event.

Opportunities-at-a-Glance

- ♦ Pieces highlighting the diversity of collections and the latest archival acquisitions
- ♦ Member profiles and accomplishments
- ♦ Columns by the Archivist of the United States and the SAA President and Executive Director
- ♦ Striking photographic images from archival collections

The American Archivist

Now in its 78th year,
SAA's flagship publication is one of the most trusted resources among archivists.

Probing Content from Thought Leaders

The American Archivist features:

- ◆ Research reflecting theoretical and practical advancements in the profession
- ◆ Informative case studies on how to use the latest technologies
- ◆ Perspectives on how archives are affected by cultural and social changes
- ◆ Articles on international archival developments
- ◆ Book and resource reviews

As an advertiser, you'll:

- ◆ Position your ad with trusted content that readers will refer to continuously.
- ◆ Get double the exposure when you place a print ad—the digital edition features the same content in a convenient electronic format.
