

Society of American Archivists
Council Meeting
May 18-20, 2022
Chicago, Illinois

Discussion: Council Exemplary Service Award and Council Resolutions
(Prepared by Felicia Owens)

An important function of most professional associations is to motivate and reward members and supporters by providing professional recognition. For an awards program to serve as a motivator and reward, it is important to ensure that – each year – individuals and organizations that have made a significant contribution to the profession or the association are singled out for recognition.

The purpose of this discussion item on the May 2022 agenda is to provide an opportunity for Council members to consider for the Council Exemplary Service Award or a Council Resolution individuals and/or organizations whose efforts are worthy but may not be recognized in 2022 via the SAA Awards Program. For both types of recognition the Council itself selects the awardee(s).

Given the proximity of the May Council meeting to the August conference, the process of preparing a nomination and voting on it should occur online in early June.

BACKGROUND

The Council Exemplary Service Award was created in 1980, at the request of the Committee on the Selection of SAA Fellows, to recognize a special contribution to the archives profession (and especially to SAA) that is not eligible for one of the other awards given by the Society. It is given on an occasional basis at the discretion of the Council or upon recommendation to the Council by the Awards Committee. In recent years the Council Exemplary Service Award has been given at one of the plenary sessions at which awards are presented.

Council Resolutions periodically are developed to acknowledge the contributions of individuals to the Society or the archives community. Council resolutions typically are printed on certificate paper and either sent to individuals following a phone call from the President or presented at a Council meeting at which the individual is in attendance. In recent years, Council resolutions have been presented during one of the two plenary sessions or at the Annual Membership (Business) Meeting.
