

IMPACT OF NHPRC IN GEORGIA

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) promotes the preservation and use of America's documentary heritage essential to understanding our democracy, history, and culture. Since 1964, the NHPRC has awarded $207 million to 4,900 projects in all 50 states and special jurisdictions.

Total Cost of Projects supported by NHPRC in Georgia:

- $7,867,679 - Total Project Funds
- $3,976,198 - Direct Federal Grants
- $3,891,481 - State and Local Contributions

Projects of Special Value to the State of Georgia:

The NHPRC has played a unique role in supporting historical PUBLICATIONS and RECORDS projects of special value to California including:

- Establish a Network of Archives in Georgia – support to establish or enhance archives at such institutions as the Atlanta-Fulton County Library System, the Georgia Historical Society, Jekyll Island State Park, Troup County Historical Society, George State University, Georgia Tech, Shorter College, the Atlanta Jewish Federation, the Floyd County Board of Education, Emory University, and others.
- State Archives Enhancements – funding to support the Georgia Department of Archives and History in preserving records, enhancing access, preparing for emergencies and managing electronic records.
- Publishing Historical Records – funding to research and publish multi-volume editions of the papers of such noteworthy Americans as Howard Thurman and J. Franklin Jameson.
- Local records in Georgia – support to help organize, preserve, and facilitate the use of county and local records throughout the state, from Atkinson County to Turner County.
- Documenting Georgia's Diverse Heritage – project and/or academic press support African American educational institutions, the Jewish community in Atlanta, and rural counties throughout the state.
- Preserving Special Format Collections – funding to preserve, arrange, describe, and make accessible photographs, audio recordings, film, and other special format archival materials, at the Atlanta Historical Society, the Georgia Historical Society, and digitizing the records of Troup County.
- Electronic Records – funding for the Georgia Archives, University of Georgia, Clayton State University, Southern Polytechnic University, and the Georgia Geographic Information Systems geospatial records.
