

IMPACT OF NHPRC IN NORTH CAROLINA

The National Historical Publications and Records Commission (NHPRC) promotes the preservation and use of America's documentary heritage essential to understanding our democracy, history, and culture. Since 1964, the NHPRC has awarded $207 million to 4,900 projects in all 50 states and special jurisdictions.

Total Cost of Projects supported by NHPRC in North Carolina:

- $8,734,371 - Total Project Funds
- $4,263,068 - Direct Federal Grants
- $4,471,303 - State and Local Contributions

Projects of Special Value to the State of North Carolina:

The NHPRC has played a unique role in supporting historical RECORDS and PUBLICATIONS projects of special value to North Carolina including:

- Establishing A Network of Archives in North Carolina – support to establish or enhance archives programs at the American Dance Festival, Duke University, Historic Hope Plantation, University of North Carolina, and many other repositories.
- Public Records Support – funding to preserve and make available essential public records from North Carolina's local governments including births, deaths, marriages, divorces, etc.
- African American Heritage and Communities - funding to preserve archives and historic records of African American history and culture including two publication projects: The Race, Slavery, and Free Blacks Project and Black Abolitionist Papers.
- The Papers of John Marshall – funding to publish 12 volumes of the papers and correspondence of this statesman and jurist who served as Chief Justice from 1801-1835.
- Access to the Papers of Diverse Americans – project and/or press support for the papers of such historical figures as Revolutionary War general Nathanael Greene, North Carolina senator and governor Zebulon Vance, Continental Congress member Charles Carroll, and social reformer Jane Addams.
- Heritage support for Local North Carolina communities – support for preserving historic records held at dozens of smaller North Carolina repositories.
- State Archives Support – support to enhance the state archives' preservation and public access activities and support such statewide services as disaster preparedness training and basic archives workshops.
