

75th Anniversary “Trading Cards”

Content and Images Wanted!

The SAA 75th Anniversary Task Force is creating a set of 75 trading cards featuring prominent people, places, events, and other noteworthy issues since the association’s founding in 1936. You’re invited to suggest content for this limited-edition set of trading cards, which will be available at the 75th Anniversary Annual Meeting in Chicago in August 2011.

A sample card for Waldo Gifford Leland is below. Similar to a baseball card, one side features an image and the other side highlights key facts.

Please submit prospective content and images for potential cards! Categories include:

- People – any archival personality who made significant contributions to SAA and/or the profession during the past 75 years. Note that the individual must be deceased.
- Organizations – Any archives/history organization that has played a major role or made significant contributions to the archival history of the United States.
- Events – Important events, such as legislative acts (federal, state, or local).
- Places – Any building, city, or locations important to SAA history.
- Ideas – Important concepts that changed archival thinking and practice over the past 75 years.

Brevity and succinctness rule! Content and images are needed. Please include sources. Send your prospective trading card content and images to jschooley@archivists.org by Nov. 1, 2010.
