| 1 | Learning about what others are doing and their available documentation. | 8/16/2016 12:37 PM |
| 2 | I'm hoping the online discussion will be the most valuable, but we haven't had it yet. I intended to participate in the first one, but I was given incorrect information about the time. | 1/26/2016 1:04 PM |
| 3 | It was convenient to have this online. | 1/25/2016 10:21 AM |
| 4 | Relation of principles to practice - examples given in workshop and live group discussion. | 1/25/2016 10:13 AM |

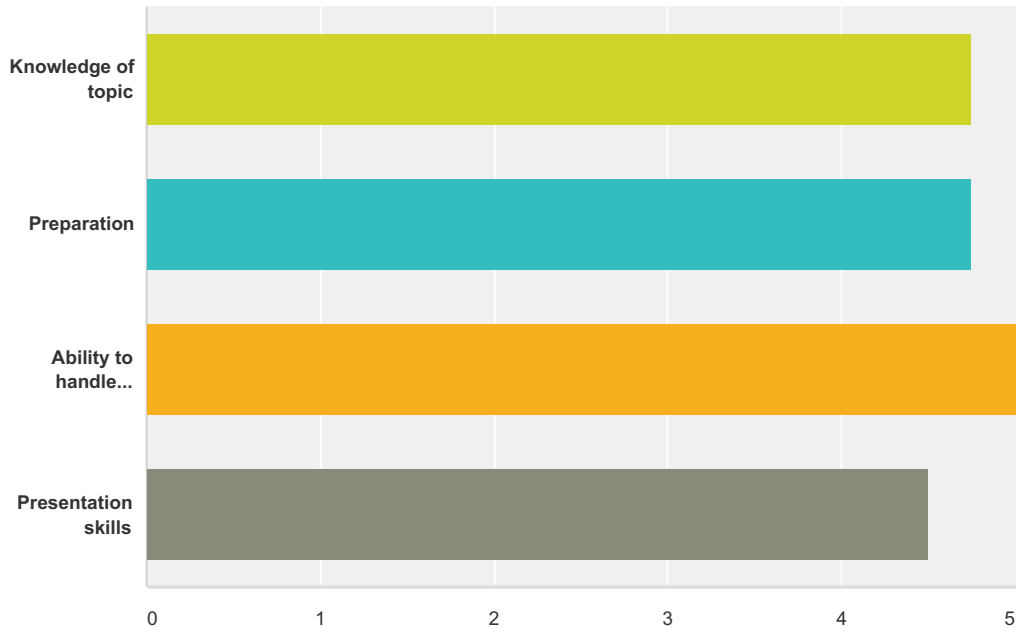

Q5 What aspect of the workshop methods/materials would you change? Why?

|---|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------|
| 1 | The readings. Not all of them were as helpful as the documentation available through other means. | 8/16/2016 12:37 PM |
| 2 | I would appreciate something that addressed archiving web-based resources that are not necessarily on the public web/accessible to crawlers like Archive-It. There are lots of things that are in web portals of some kind, including organizational intranets and even social media accounts, that cannot be captured using basic tools that crawl the open web. I realize this was a "fundamentals" course, so maybe I'm really asking for a more advanced course. | 1/26/2016 1:04 PM |
| 3 | I feel that having the discussions so long after the video became available makes it hard to effectively review. | 1/25/2016 10:21 AM |
