

University of Louisville--Aggregate Level

Collection Name	Jean Thomas, The Traipsin' Woman, Collection
Collection Website	http://digital.library.louisville.edu/collections/jthom/
Creator	Thomas, Jean, b. 1881 (collector)
Description	Known as The Traipsin' Woman, Jean Thomas traveled the mountains of eastern Kentucky taking snapshot photographs of the mountain way of life, writing, and promoting mountain folkways. She was particularly interested in the music, crafts, and language patterns of the area. Included in the Photographic Archives collection are 1,077 negatives taken by Jean Thomas during her travels throughout the eastern Kentucky mountains. The images document musical instruments, quilts, baskets, and other crafts, and scenes with community and family groups.
Subject	Appalachians (People); Appalachian Region--History; Appalachian Region--Social life and customs; Folk festivals; Folk music--Appalachian Region, Southern; Kentucky--History; Kentucky--Social life and customs
Location Depicted	Ashland (Ky.); Boyd County (Ky.); Carter County (Ky.); Floyd County (Ky.); Greenup County (Ky.); Rowan County (Ky.)
Time Period
Date
Digital Publisher	University of Louisville Photographic Archives
Date Issued
Date Modified	2007-05-01
Formats in collection	Still Image
Format	image/jpeg
Rights	The Jean Thomas, The Traipsin' Woman collection is open for research. For further information about permissions, use, and ordering reproductions, contact Special Collections, Ekstrom Library, University of Louisville.
Filename	6.jpg

Comments by submitter Carrie Daniels:

The "time period" element is something we use at this point only for collection-level records; there are issues of searching for dates within CONTENTdm that haven't been resolved yet (or at least not in a really elegant way). Also, some of these materials are part of collections that are described in MARC records.

University of Louisville--Item Level

Title	"'Devil Anse' Hatfield and his wife, Aunt Levicy Hatfield at tombs of their sons Troy & Elias."
Creator	"Thomas, Jean, b. 1881 (collector)"
Contributors
Description	"William Anderson 'Devil Anse' Hatfield and his wife, Aunt Levisa 'Levicy' Chaffin Hatfield, stand in front of the tombs of their sons Detroit 'Troy' Hatfield and Elias, who were shot to death over a liquor dispute on October 17, 1911."
Subject	Men; Women; Tombs & sepulchral monuments
People Pictured	Hatfield, Devil Anse, 1839-1921; Hatfield, Levisa 'Levicy' Chaffin"

Location Depicted	Logan County (W. Va.)
Date Original	19--?
Object Type	Negatives
Source	"3 x 4 1/2 in. b&w nitrate negative. Item no. 1979.33.0096 in the Jean Thomas, The Traipsin' Woman, Collection, University of Louisville Photographic Archives."
Collection	"Jean Thomas, The Traipsin' Woman, Collection"
Collection Website	http://digital.library.louisville.edu/collections/jthom/
Digital Publisher	University of Louisville Photographic Archives
Digitization Specifications	"Scanned as a 1200 ppi TIFF image in 8-bit grayscale. Resized to 600 pixels in the longest dimension and compressed into JPEG format of "maximum" quality using CONTENTdm Digital Collection Management Software version 4.1."
Date Digital	2003-05-20
Type	Still Image
Format	image/jpeg
Ordering Information	"To order a reproduction, inquire about permissions, or for information about prices see: http://library.louisville.edu/ekstrom/special/rights.html ; please cite the Image Number when ordering."
Image Number	ULPA 1979.33.0096
Filename	622.jpg

Comments by submitter Carrie Daniels:

We anticipate using this metadata scheme for other types of materials, including born digital items and moving images; we just don't have any in this system yet. There are some modifications, obviously, for born-digital items: no entry in the "Date digital" or "Source" elements, for example.